

Xcelsitas AG

Xcelsitas AG and LargeV, a world leader in scanning technology, bring their expertise to the dental market and introduce the "LargeV HiRes3D Oral Cone Beam CT (CBCT)" at IDS 2015.

The HiRes3D delivers unique value at an unmatched price-performance ratio and is designed to the needs of dentists, orthodontists and dental surgeons in all of Europe.

At IDS, LargeV and Xcelsitas AG present the HiRes3D Digital Oral Cone Beam CT (CBCT), a state of the art DVT. The HiRes3D equipment acquires a highly accurate 3D image of the whole oral cavity with a resolution as high as 2.0lp/mm in a single scan, which effectively meets the requirements of dental implants, the impacted teeth positioning, oral surgery evaluation, dental disease diagnosis and other oral applications. The compact size and ergonomic design enable it to be used in restricted spaces. The highly accurate 3D image provides more comprehensive and precise information, making the treatment plan more accurate and the treatment effect more predictable. It eventually helps medical organizations to expand their service scope and to improve service quality.

LargeV Instrument Corp. Ltd is a high-tech company providing advanced medical imaging equipment and related services. It started as a spin-off from prominent Tsinghua University. LargeV has a wealth of experience and technologies in cone beam CT imaging, dose optimization, radiation protection and metal artifacts removal.

LargeV's parent company Nuctech Company Limited, is a world leader in scanning technology and a world-leading security inspection product manufacturer and security solutions supplier. Nuctech's products have been sold to more than 130 countries and regions on five continents.

Backed by the experience and resources of its parent company, LargeV has unique advantages in industrial design, production process, quality control and aftersales service, adhering to providing high-quality products and services.
